>"Advance a bit farther, tether the horses and switch to Maneuver Gear. You guys will be off on your own for a while. Eldo, lead the squad." Levi turns around on his horse to face his squad.

"Once you're a good distance away from the Female Titan, hide Eren. Take my horse." Levi finishes before using his gear to propel him into the trees towards the capture site.

"Well, Eren? See that? We caught that Titan!" Gunther told Eren.

"This is the power of the Survey Corps! Don't underestimate us, fool. Well? Do you get it now?" Oluo shouts to Eren.

"Hai." Eren calls back.

>Levi flies through the trees and lands on the branch next to Erwin, standing in front of the captured Female Titan.

"Looks like it's stopped movingâ€¦" Levi said, his swords drawn and resting at his sides.

"We can't lower our guard. But you did well, leading it here." Erwin replied.

"Men in the rearguard squads died buying us the time we needed. We couldn't have done it without them." Levi's head turned to face Erwin.

"Is that so?" Erwin said.

"It is. Thanks to them, we'll be able to see who's inside this thing." Levi stares at the Female Titan as it tries to move, but fails.

>Levi and Mike propelled down to try to cut the Female Titan's hands off, but just before they made contact, she crystallized her hands and their swords broke.

'It can selectively harden its skin to protect specific parts of its body? That ability sounds rather similar to that of the Armored Titan. If we continue attacking with 3D Maneuver gear and blades, will it weaken?' Erwin thought after Mike showed him the broken blades.

'We don't have the time to find out.' Erwin thought.

"Bring the explosives out. We'll blow its hands off." Erwin said, calling down one of the soldiers.

"With the firepower we have, it may cause harm to the person inside." He replied.

"Set the charges to amputate the wrists. Send them all off together on my signal." Erwin said.

The soldier flew down and told the squad to prepare the explosives for another round.

"Hey, why don't you come out? We don't have time to waste. What do you think will happen to you now? Do you believe you can escape?" Levi talked to the Female titan.

"I wish you 'd consider all the trouble we're going through. As I recall, you killed my troops in many creative ways. I want to ask you something. Is it okay if we cut off your hands and legs" Levi stamped his foot on the Female Titan's head.

"I'm talking about _your_ limbs, not the Titan's. We need you alive after all." Levi finished.

The Female Titan opened its mouth and an ear-shattering scream came from its mouth as the scream echoed through out the whole forest. At the capture site, all the soldiers were in shock from the scream and the loudness of it.

"Erwin, it stinks. Multiple sources, from all directions at once." Erwin's eyes widened. Loud footsteps were heard as titan began running into the forest, all of them acting like abnormals.

Erwin called out for the Wagon escort team to intercept the oncoming titans but as they did, the titans didn't pay attention to them. All the soldiers watched as the titans began to eat the trapped Female Titan.

"All men engage. Defend the female-form Titan, even if it costs you your lives!" And the soldier sprung at the multiple titans that had approached the area.

As the men began to kill the titans, more of them seemed to run into the area.

"It's no use!" One of the soldiers shouted out as he killed a titan. Just as Erwin was about to call for a retreat, he saw four objects shoot through the trees and engage in the fight. In a couple of seconds most of the titans were killed.

The soldier fighting began to see the decrease and fought against the titans harder, eventually killing all of them. In the smoke that came from the Female Titan when she began to evaporate, the Survey Corps lost sight of the Female's human form exit from the Titan's body.

Once all the smoke has dissipated and the bodies of the titans had evaporated, the soldiers under Erwin's command saw four people standing on the floor. They were all wearing the Survey Corps uniform. On their brown jacket, instead of the Wings of Freedom logo, there was a silver crescent moon. Similarly, they had green cloaks like the Survey Corps. Their cloaks, however, had a white strip going around the edge of the cloak. On the back, they had the same silver crescent moon.

"Who are you?" Erwin and his troops descended as the four people pulled back their hoods.

"Commander Erwin of the Survey Corps. We are the Secret Force sent by our Lord as reinforcements and will be joining the Survey Corps. I am the co-captain, Sango Tajiya. My fellow squad members are Inuyasha Taisho, Miroko Houshi and Shippo Kitsune." Sango introduced herself.

"Erwin, we have bigger problems." One of the soldiers called out.

"The Female Titan escaped during the smoke. She's gone after Eren, I presume." Levi said.

"Levi, go after them." Erwin called out.

"No need to go. We have reinforments after the Female Titan." The guy with the short black hair tied in a small ponytail explained.

"Erwin, orders?" Levi turned to his commander, slightly limping due to the broken leg from pushing off of a tree at a bad angle.

"Retreat. Help the injured into the wagons and head back to the edge of the forest. Pick up all injured that are standing there." The soldiers began to help the injured and dead bodies on to the wagons and moved out of the forest picking up other dead and injured people as they went.

"Why are you outside the walls? Once Erwin, Levi and the rest of the uninjured soldiers were outside the forest, they began to question the four people riding horses along with them.

"The four of us have been trained since 2 years before the breach of Wall Maria 5 years ago. We were handpicked by our Lord from the training batch and put into private training with him at his estate. He gave us the permission to leave the Walls and help you." Shippo explained.

"Why help us know? Why not before?" Levi asked.

"One year before the Wall's breach, we came across a child around our age with incredible abilities, ones that they didn't recognize doing and decided to let them join our group. The rest of the years, we would work in the shadows of the city." Sango replied.

"Who is your Lord?" Erwin asked Sango.

"Lord Sesshomaru Taisho of the Western Lands." Erwin was surprised when she said the name.

'Sesshomaru? He's still alive? I wonder how he's been since the same training camp we joined.' Erwin thought.

>"Let's go further in to the woods. The last thing we need is the Female Titan finding you, Eren." Agreeing with Petra, the squad began to fly at quick speeds using the gear. They heard loud footsteps approaching them and smoke rising from behind them. When they turned their heads around, they saw the Female Titan running after them.

"What do we do? I thought that Commander Erwin caught the Titan." Gunther asked.

"We have to engage. Eren, get away from here. Leave this to us." Levi's squad prepared to fight the Female Titan.

As Oluo pushed off a tree at the Female Titan's neck, it grabbed him in her hand.

"Oluo!" Petra screamed. The Female Titan was about to crush Oluo in its grip when something burst through the trees at the Female Titan.

"We have to engage. Eren, get away from here. Leave this to us." Levi's squad prepared to fight the Female Titan.

As Oluo pushed off a tree at the Female Titan's neck, it grabbed him in a tight grip.

"Oluo!" Petra screamed. The Female Titan was about to crush Oluo when something burst through the trees at the Female Titan.

Oluo, shocked from the fact that he was about to get killed, couldn't move.

"Get out of here. Find your horses and meet up with the Survey Corps at the edge of the forest now. Hurry." The figure screamed as they began to engage the Female Titan at fast speeds.

The Special Operations Squad, minus Captain Levi, watched as the figure began to cut at the Female Titan fast enough that it had no time to crystallize its skin.

"So fast. They're almost like Captain Levi." Petra said after helping Oluo from the ground and into the trees.

"Who is she" Oluo asked as the group began to rush back to their captain.

"I don't know. Captain Levi may have the answer. We are going to have to just trust her on this. She looks like she can take on the Female Titan." Eldo replied. The squad reached their horses and they began to ride out of the forest and they met up with the Survey Corps who were getting ready to leave.

"Captain Levi!" The squad came running from the forest as they met up with their captain.

"What happened?" Levi asked.

"The Female Titan emerged and began to chase us. We were going to engage and just when Oluo was caught in its grip, a figure came crashing through the trees and cut the Female Titan's arm off. They told us to meet up with you and began to fight the Titan." Gunther explained.

"They were fighting so fast. The Titan didn't have time to crystallize its body parts in time and the figure was able to damage it a lot. I wonder if she'll make it back alive." Petra said.

"I don't know Petra. The Female Titan killed tons of our men. Even then, I owe her my life." Oluo asked.

"Survey Corps. Retreat at a fast pace to the Walls. Stay in a column and stick together." Erwin shouted out to the group before riding off with Mike and Hange next to him, followed by the rest of the group. Levi and the Special Operations Squad brought up the back as the group began to ride towards the Walls.

"Who are they?" Eren gestured behind them to the four people: 3 men and 1 woman on the horses waiting.

"They are a Secret Force that was trained by a Lord. They were sent to help with the mission." Levi explained as they rode back to the Walls.

"It's almost as if they knew something bad was to happen. I wonder if they're waiting for their squad member to come." Petra said her thoughts aloud.

"Who knows?" Eldo replied.

Secret Force

>"Damn it. She's taking her sweet time." Inuyasha cursed as he paced his horse up and down looking around for any possible Titans approaching.

"She will come when she has injured the Female Titan enough so that we can make it back to the walls safely. Shut up and don't make any excess noise to attract any titans, baka." Sango said to Inuyasha.

"Hmmph. I should have gone instead of her. We all know I'm the best out of us." Inuyasha boasted.

"Really Inuyasha? Care to test that out?" A girl's voice came from behind him. Inuyasha turned to see a person ride out of the forest on her horse.

"Kagome, about time you came back." Inuyasha snapped as the 5 of them began to ride back to the walls, following the Survey Corps at fast speeds.

"The Female Titan is like any other I have ever seen. I was able to make deep cuts into her skin, but she kept her neck crystallized the whole time. I could only injure her enough to make it back and make sure that she wouldn't come after us." Kagome said as the 5 of them began to ride quickly to catching up with the Survey Corps.

"Why are you holding your sword in a weird way? That's different from how you usually hold it differently." Sango commented.

"Damn Female attempted to squash me against a tree. Distracted by the Special Operations leaving, she broke my arm. That's why I'm going to have to use 'it' to kill the titans if we come across any. Otherwise, my cuts won't be deep enough with my bad arm." Kagome spat out.

"Be careful." Sango replied. After riding for a while, they soon saw the Survey Corps in front of the and Kagome turned around to face her squad members.

"Spit into pairs. Join the Survey Corps. Shippo, Inuyasha shadow top of the column. Sango, Miroko. Shadow the sides. Make sure no titans come near them. I'll take the rear." Kagome shouted to her squad members.

"Roger that." Inuyasha and Shippo sped their horses and were soon running side-by-side Commander Erwin and Hange.

"Where is the rest of your squad?" Hange asked.

"Sango and Miroko are shadowing the sides to protect your column from titans and our captain's got the rear." Shippo explained.

"Why am I stuck with you?" Inuyasha grumbled out.

"You ask this every time. Do you really need an answer?" Shippo retorted.

"Hmmph." Inuyasha flipped Shippo off and began to answer Erwin's questions while Shippo talked to Hange.

>Rear of the Column

>"Oluo, were you able to see their face when they cut the Female Titan's arm off?" Petra asked as they rode next to a wagon of injured people.

"No. They came rushing in too quick." Oluo replied. The conversation was minimal. The retreat back to the Walls was going smoothly until the Survey Corps heard loud footsteps behind them. Levi and his squad turned to see two titans: one 10 meter and the other a 12 meter.

>"Full Speed ahead." Erwin yelled out. The Survey Corps began to pick up their pace but the titans were gaining on them.

"We have to go faster. Unload some of the bodies." Erwin was about to shout out when Shippo interrupted him.

"Don't worry. Just continue riding at full speed. Our captain can take care of this." Shippo saw the grin on Inuyasha's face as he stopped Erwin.

"I never saw them at the capture site. Where were they?" Hange asked.

"Went ahead to take on the Female Titan." Inuyasha replied. Erwin and Hange's eyes widened in shock.

>Rear of the Column

>"Captain Levi, can't you take them out?" Gunther shouted to his captain.

"I can't. My leg is twisted." Levi looked behind him at the two titans.

"Let us take them out." Eldo asked.

"All units are to stay in the column. Erwin's orders." Mike brought his horse where they were riding and told the squad.

"If no one is going to take it out, we're going to get eaten." Eren shouted

"It's okay. We have it covered." A voice next to Petra said. The squad turned their heads to see Sango riding next to them.

"What do you mean?" Eren asked.

"Watch." The squad turned to see the two titans. What they didn't see was the horse coming from the side at them.

"Keep going, Kilala. Directly at them." Kagome told her horse. As the two got closer to the titans chasing the Survey Corps, she drew her battered blades and used her power.

Levi and his squad watched as a figure came riding fast through the trees at the titans. They pulled out their swords, and a blue fire erupted from the blades and stayed around them.

"What is that?" Eren gawked at the figure as they used Maneuver Gear and killed the two titans. The titans screamed as they were reduced to ashes. The person returned to their horse and began to ride closer to them until they were riding right behind them.

"Who are you?" Oluo asked.

"I'm Kagome Higurashi. Captain of the Secret Force." Levi and his squad watched as the figure took off her hood to reveal ice blue eyes and raven hair. The figure was a girl.

"Who are you?" Oluo asked.

"I'm Kagome Higurashi. Captain of the Secret Elite Force." Levi and his squad watched as the figure took off her hood to reveal ice blue eyes and raven waves of hair. The figure was a girl.

>"Should we go report to Sesshomaru?" Sango asked as they rode past Wall Rose into the city.

"Yes. We shouldn't waste our time." Kagome sighed before turning to Hange and Erwin.

"We shall be taking our leave to report back to Sesshomaru. You will be expecting us to come to your headquarters tomorrow afternoon." Kagome told the two.

"Very well." Erwin replied. Kagome gathered Inuyasha, Shippo and Miroku, who were all talking with some of the soldiers.

"Let's go. Sesshomaru will be waiting for us." With that, the Secret Force left the Survey Corps.

>Survey Corps Headquarters

Next Day

>"Kagome, we're training with the Survey Corps, right? Sango asked as they rode their horses from the Western Lands to the Survey Corps Headquarters.

"Yes." Kagome replied.

"Didn't we just go through hell last night?" Inuyasha shouted at the two girls. Yesterday, when they arrived at the Western Palace, they reported into Sesshomaru and were dismissed to do as they pleased on the last day of them being there. Later in the day, around evening, they were called by Sesshomaru to complete a final training against his men in sword fighting, hand-to-hand combat, agility and speed.

"Inuyasha, it's not uncommon to train. We're putting our lives out there, so to make sure we don't go unprepared, we train." Miroku began to explain.

"Miroku, when did you become all smart? Did you hit your head hard last night?" Sango asked, pulling her horse next to his.

"Why, all have always been this smart, my dear Sango." Miroku's 'cursed' hand found it's way to Sango's butt and began to caress it, gaining him a red hand print on the side of his face.

"Hentai!" Sango screamed out before moving her horse over to the other side of Kagome, far away from Miroku's side.

"Knock it off, Miroku. You can't charm the girl that way." Shippo hit Miroku over the head. They had

"Like you would know." Miroku retorted.

"Shut up hentai." Shippo muttered.

"What are we going to do about it?" Kagome asked Sango regarding her 'abilities.'

"I think we should tell Erwin about it." Sango suggested.

"What are you to talking about?" Inuyasha asked.

"Nothing of your interest." Kagome flipped him off.

"Whatever." Inuyasha said, turning his head in the other direction as Kagome and Sango began to laugh at his actions.

They finally made it to the Survey Corps HQ, located between Wall Sina and Rose. It was a large mansion, with tons of flatlands and other training areas.

The Secret Force got off their horses and led them over to the stable where a couple soldiers were working. Giving their horses to them, the group headed into the headquarters to the Commander's Office.

"Come in." The group stepped into the office and saw Erwin, Hange, Mike and Levi waiting for them.

"You have arrived. How was your journey?" Hange asked as they walked in.

"Pleasant." Sango replied for the group.

"Erwin, we would like to join the Survey Corps." Kagome stated.

"Very well. However, we will have to separate you into the squads we already have. Is that acceptable?" Erwin asked.

Turning to look at her friends' faces, she nodded in agreement. Erwin looked through papers on his desk consisting of all the squads in the Survey Corps before giving the group their new squads.

"Sango, Miroku. You will be in the same squad. Hang will escort to their meeting spot." Sango and Miroku nodded.

"Inuyasha, Shippo. You will be joining the same squad as well. Mike will take you down shortly. Kagome, we will place you in Levi's squad. He will take you to where the rest of the squad is." Erwin commanded.

"Yes Sir." The group saluted to Erwin before splitting up.

"Follow me." Levi walked out the door and Kagome followed.

>Training Field

>Levi led Kagome over to the training field where a few tables were set up. At one of the tables, sat the rest of the Special Operations Squad.

"You all remember Kagome." The squad nodded their heads.

"She will be joining our squad." Levi said.

"Nice to see you guys again. How have you been?" Kagome greeted.

"Good." Petra replied, pulling Kagome over to the table where they were sitting. Levi took a seat next to Gunther and Eldo and began to write up a new training routine.

"Thank you for saving my life, but don't expect that all the time." Oluo put up a bold front.

Laughing Kagome agreed. She looked around the field to see many different squads training or hanging out. Kagome saw Sango and Miroku talking with a short blonde boy and a tall brown haired boy. On the other side of the field, she saw Inuyasha sparing against a tall blonde haired man and Shippo watching the fight.

"Why are so many people in one training area?" Kagome asked.

"This is the main training field. Since it is half flat ground and half wooded, we can work on our use of Maneuver Gear in the woods. On the flat ground we work on sparing, speed and agility." Petra replied.

Kagome then turned to the boy sitting in front of her and observed him. He had green eyes and short brown hair. He was watching the soldiers training on the field.

"You're the famous titan shifter, aren't you? What's your name?" Kagome asked the boy, who turned his head to look at her.

"My name is Eren. Eren Jaeger. Thank you for saving all our lives from the Female Titan yesterday." Eren thanked Kagome.

"No problem. Glad I could help." Kagome smiled at the boy. Eren blushes lightly before turning back to his food.

"If you don't mind me asking, what was that blue light that came from you blade yesterday?" Eren asked. The whole squad stopped what they were doing and turned to face Kagome.

"A trick of the light?" Kagome lied.

"Oh really." Eren replied.

"Yeah. There's no way my blade can just light up." Kagome laughed. Levi, however, knew that something was wrong, that she wasn't telling the truth.

"I guess you are right." Petra replied.

"Eldo. You're in charge of training. I need to speak to Erwin. I will be back later on." Levi walked off to the building.

"Split into two groups. One will practice speed using Maneuver Gear; the other can join the other squads for hand combat and agility practice. These are Captain Levi's orders." Eldo spoke out.

"Petra, Oluo. You're with me. We'll start in the forest. The rest of you are to join the other squads." Petra, Oluo and Eldo got up and ran towards the forest to start training.

"Shall we go?" Gunther asked Eren and Kagome.

"Sure." The two got up and walked over with Gunter to where some of the newer squad troops were.

"Train with the members here. Try to do hand-to-hand combat and use you agility. I'm going to go spar with some of pals over there." Gunther said before heading off to where some of the older soldiers were sparing.

"Do you want to try me?" Kagome asked Eren.

"You'll probably beat me." Eren admitted sheepishly.

"Don't worry. I won't go as hard. Try to get a hit on me." And with that Kagome waited for Eren to attack her. Eren tried to punch Kagome, but she blocked his fist with one hand and used the other to knock the wind out of Eren. Stumbling back, Eren tried to regain his balance from the impact. In a matter of seconds, Kagome had him pinned to the ground on his back, hands pinned by her knees.

"I give. It's your win." Kagome got off of Eren and helped him up. What she didn't realize was that a couple of Eren's friends had circled around to watch the fight.

"How did you do that? I'm Jean, by the way." Kagome turned to see the tall brown haired man that Miroku was talking to earlier.

"The punch was used to render him unbalanced and in shock. Using that time, I was able to flip him over." Kagome explained.

"That was fast." The small blonde haired boy exclaimed.

"What's your name?" Kagome asked him.

"Armin. Armin Arlet. What is yours?" Armin asked.

"Kagome Higurashi. Nice to meet you, Armin." Kagome smiled.

"You too. Thank you for saving Eren from the Female Titan." Armin bowed.

"Your welcome." Kagome replied.

"How old are you? You look really young for fighting Titans, like Krista is." Armin pointed at the small blonde female whom a taller black haired female with tanned skin was squishing.

"Don't you know that it's rude to ask a lady for her age?" Kagome said. Armin blushed, before saying sorry.

"It's okay. I'm 19 years old." Kagome replied.

"You're kidding right?" Jean said in disbelief. Kagome shook her head.

"You look so young though!" Jean replied.

"I've been told many times. Even my friends are older than me, yet I was chosen captain of my old squad." Kagome said.

Kagome saw Sango and Miroku finishing a fight and put her fingers to her lips showing Jean and Armin, before stalking off to where her friends her. She crept behind Miroku, signaling Sango that she was coming, and jabbed him in the sides, causing him to shout out and take a couple steps forward.

"Ahhhh!" Kagome mocked Miroku as she and Sango began to laugh continuously.

"Kagome!" Miroku jumped up and began to punch at Kagome, who ducked every punch. This led to them having a fight. In the end, Miroku had plenty of bruises and scrapes and was on the floor face up. Kagome, on the other hand, stood in front of him, bruises and scrapes all over her.

"I win!" She screamed as she ran over to Sango.

"Did he really think he could take you on?" Shippo and Inuyasha came over.

"What happened to Miroku?" Shippo began to poke at Miroku's nonmoving body.

"He got beat up by Kagome. Again." Inuyasha laughed as Sango told him what happened.

"Ugh. My body feels painful." Miroku complained as he stood up from his position and made his way over to where his friends were standing.

"Miss me, my dear Sango?" Things happened, and as a result, Miroku got another slap on the face.

"Must you wound me? Have I not had enough bruises?" Miroku said.

"Shut up Miroku." Sango threatened as she glared him down.

In the Forest

>"How are you able to go so fast at one time? I saw you cutting the Female Titan so fast that she couldn't crystallize her body." Eren asked as he was dodging trees, trying to catch up to Kagome and Gunther, who were playing a game of tag to increase speed.

"There's a story behind that."

"During the fall of Wall Maria, my friends and I were ordered to dress up as cadets and join in the fight. When I saw a girl caught in the grip of a titan, I began to run towards her. Unfortunately, I saw another Titan beside it. It was then that I thought that I had to hurry and soon I was propelling at high speeds and was able to kill the titans and rescue the girl. Later, I told Sesshomaru, and he told me that I was capable of releasing more gas to make me go faster."

"After that, I learned to control the amount of gas I used." Kagome swerved around a tree out of Eren's vision and ended up behind him.

"It was hard training though. Releasing a normal amount of gas like I am now is easy to do, the more gas you release the harder it is to control your movements." Kagome explained as she began to descend to the forest floor after Gunther who finished practice.

"Do you think I need it?" Eren came down after Kagome.

"I don't think so. It probably wouldn't be best if you did, since it is hard to control, making it dangerous.

"You're right. Will you train with me on my hand-to-hand combat?" Eren asked Kagome.

"Anytime, just not it the morning. I'm not a morning person, just so you know." Kagome grumbled out the last sentence as Eren began to laugh. As the two walked out of the forest, a woman was waiting for them.

"Oh. I forgot to introduce you earlier. Kagome, this is Mikasa, my adoptive sister and childhood friend." Eren said. Kagome stared at the woman in front of her and realized that they both were from Asian descent.

"Konichiwa Mikasa-san. Watashi namai wa Kagome." Kagome introduced. Eren watched as Mikasa replied in same language, Japanese.

"I never knew you were of Japanese descent, Kagome." Eren turned his head back and forth between Kagome and Mikasa.

"No problem. I'm going to go find Petra and introduce her to my friends. I'll see you two later. Bye." Kagome walked off to where Petra was currently fighting Eldo.

>-Time Skip-

Night Time

>After training, Kagome and the squad came in and had an early dinner before retiring to what ever they pleased to do. Eldo and Gunther went to ride around the Survey Corps territory with their horses. Kagome took Petra to have some girl talk with Sango. Oluo went to his room to do who knows what and Levi went with Erwin to discuss future expedition ideas.

Once Kagome, Sango and Petra finished their major gossip/girl talk session, they said goodnight to each other before walking off to their rooms. Kagome shared a room with Petra. Sango shared a room with Mikasa, who she ended up befriending. Inuyasha and Miroku shared a room and Shippo roomed with Connie.

'I have to practice 'it'. Otherwise, Sesshomaru will find out I'm not practicing and hunt me down.' Kagome thought as she waited for Petra to go to sleep before sneaking out. At exactly 12:00 AM, Kagome dressed in her Survey Corps uniform and snuck out of the room. She made her way out of the building and into the forest, unaware of the figure that was following her.

Kagome walked into the forest and made sure not to go too far in.

"I wonder whether I should tell them about this." Kagome raised her hand into the air in front of her and watched a small blue flame erupted from her hand. She did the same on the other hand and began to move her arms around, the blue fire trailing from her hand.

Picking up the blade she brought with her, Kagome let her flames spread over the sword, engulfing it in a blue light with flames flickering off of it.

Kagome was about to practice her skills of using her flames on a sword, when a voice sounded behind her.

"So this is the blue light from before?" The voice said.

"Who's there?" Kagome asked, her blade in front of her in a defensive manner, the fire dissipating.

'Damn it. Someone was there. They saw my fire.' Kagome thought.

Kagome watched as a figure stepped into the small clearing that she was in. The figure placed a lantern on the ground and lit it with a match. With it, Kagome was able to see who it was, and when she did, her eyes grew wide as her blade dropped out of her hand.

The person who was standing in front of her was none other than her own captain.
